

Join in the safety conversation

There are many factors that determine how safe you feel, and we want to understand more about these to help make Islington a safe space for everyone.

We are holding online Safer Spaces Community Conversations to hear how you think the council, police and partners should be working to improve safety and feelings of safety in Islington.

As well as conversations based on different areas of the borough, we have sessions focused on parents and young people, Black, Asian and minority ethnic groups, as well as the LGBTQ+ community and women. Help us understand how we can help you feel safer.

Visit our website to find out more about the events and to book your free ticket via Eventbrite: www.islington.gov.uk/SafetyEvents
